Business Prospects in America And Abroad Declared To Be Good

E. H. Gary Says Caution And Courage Only Thing Required

Tendency Toward Fair Basis For All Says Big Business Man.

(By Associated Press)

New York, October 22.—Business prospects are unusually bright both in the United States and abroad, Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation declared in an address before the American Iron and Steel Institute here today.

"Although this is a time for courage, composure and caution," Mr. Gary said, "the business skies are practically without clouds. As always there may be showers from time to time, but there is nothing in the atmosphere to indicate the approach of dangerous storms. If there should be a serious reaction and depression," he said "which now seems improbable, it will be the fault of those who are connected with business operations or others who by reason of official positions improperly interfere and not because of any fundamental deficiencies in our resources and opportunities.

"Without referring to individual cases or lines of general business I believe in many instances prices have been outrageously high. This observation applies more especially to middle men, so called, and to smaller departments of industry. It also includes employees in certain trades. But it does not pertain under present conditions to the masses of workmen.

"The present tendency is toward a lower, more reasonable and fairer relative basis. The difficulty is found in the fact every individual is perfectly willing all others shall make reductions—the larger the better. Now a general public, including particularly those who are neither buyers or sellers to any large extent will in one way or another bring about a fair and reasonable adjustment of prices.

"The law of supply and demand will be the principal factor. The people of the United States have reason for confidence in the business future. They need not be discouraged nor impatient."

ROOT REPLIES TO COX DEMAND FOR RETRACTION

(By Associated Press)

New York, October 21.—Elihu Root tonight made public a telegram to Governor Cox replying to his request to correct an alleged "false" statement in Mr. Root's New York address Tuesday regarding the governor's position on the league of nations.

The message in part follows: "I have today received your telegram dated yesterday. I would not willingly do you injustice and I do not think I have. You began your campaign by an interview with the president and an authoritative statement that you and he were in complete accord upon the league of nations. If you have changed from that complete accord with him I have not heard of it."

BANKERS CONDEMN ATTACK ON BANKS

Heated Discussion at National Meeting of Bankers

Many Recommendations Made By Resolution Committee

(By Associated Press)

Washington, October 22.—Discussion by the American Bankers' Association of criticisms leveled recently at certain New York banks by Comptroller of Currency Williams culminated today in adoption of a report of the Association's resolution committee condemning "dangerous attacks" by unnamed individuals on the credit structure of the country.

Presentation of the report brought on a heated discussion. Several members maintained the convention itself was not interested in the controversy which has grown out of Comptroller Williams' charge that certain bankers had received inordinate rates of interest on call loans.

The report expressed approval of the Federal Reserve system; condemned any effort to use the Government funds or forces to arbitrarily hold up or force down prices or otherwise "to interfere with normal economic influences;" recommended the elimination of excess profits tax as inequitable and of the surplus tax because "it acts as a brake on production" and pledged the efforts of the members toward the opening of foreign markets through extension of long term credits or other means.

The report condemns "speculative hoarding" in agriculture or other industry.

The Association through adoption of resolutions went on record as opposing further participation of the government in business enterprises and referred to the alleged extravagant losses resulting from government operation of railroads.

Front Porch Campaign Also Near An End

(By Associated Press)

Marion, O., October 22.—With his return to Marion today from his short campaign excursion into New York state, Senator Harding had before him four days of freedom from speech-making before beginning the swing around his own state that will wind up his campaign.

The speech at Buffalo last night completed the nominee's list of engagements outside Ohio. His front porch program also is virtually at an end and the only speaking dates now definitely to be filled are the four next week in Cleveland, Akron, Cincinnati and Columbus.

HARDING SPEAKS TO THOUSANDS AT BUFFALO N. Y.

Again Declares American People Want Peace Association

(By Associated Press)

Buffalo, N. Y., October 21.—Charging that the democratic parties had attempted to "blind" the voter to domestic issues by devoting its campaign energies to an already rejected foreign program, Senator Harding told a crowd of several thousands here tonight that the first real duty of the nation in discharging its obligations to the world was to "put its own house in order."

In his references to the league here tonight the nominee said there was no difference between him and Governor Cox "in our realization that the American people desired to enter into some kind of an association of nations which will prevent war and interweave all peoples with the bonds of peaceful co-operation."

BANDIT KILLED IN OHIO

Two Other Desperadoes Captured After Bank Robbery Near Cleveland.

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, October 21.—Geo. "Jiggs" Losterer said to be under indictment in many states on charges of murder and robbery, is under arrest at a local hospital shot through the neck as the result of a street battle at Bedford, ten miles from here late today which resulted in the death of one bandit, the serious wounding and capture of two others and the probable fatal shooting of a bank clerk. More than 200 shots were fired.

The battle was the culmination of one of the most spectacular bank robberies ever staged in Ohio, during which eight bandits held up the Bedford branch of the Cleveland Trust Co.

The dead man was identified by Fertilizer expert as Albert Joyce, alias Johnson, William Petrie, a bank clerk, was the victim of a shot gun in the hands of a citizen who had answered the burglar alarm and mistook him for one of the bandits as he emerged from the bank. Physicians say he is dying.

Cox Speaks in Trenton, New Jersey, Scoring 'Round Robin' Signers

Says League As Inspired As Declaration of Independence

(By Associated Press)

Trenton, N. J., October 22.—The one day campaign in New Jersey was opened here by Governor James M. Cox at which the candidate asked for a "mandate" of ballots to "overturn the greatest conspiracy in all the ages." This he said was against world peace proposed under the league of nations.

The League, Governor Cox said, was "as inspired by God as much as the declaration of independence itself."

Like other recent audiences of Governor Cox his Trenton crowd today hissed the name of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, when the speaker repeated his charges of conspiracy by means of the "round robin."

Governor Cox named Senators Brandegee, of Connecticut, and Moses of New Hampshire, Smoot of Utah and Watson of Indiana as signers of the "round robin" who would, he predicted, "stay home" as a result of the election.

When a baby's crying competed with the Governor's voice he said to the mother: "That baby's crying doesn't bother me at all. Whenever I see a baby I go stronger in this fight, for its fight for the babies of future generations to save them from the horrors of war."

Governor Cox was introduced by Governor Edwards as "the man who wakes the wobbler wobbler."

Next Step of Government Is Expected Any Hour

Railway Men Preparing For General Walk-Out Sunday

British Cabinet Holds Conference During The Day

(By Associated Press)

London, October 22.—British labor and the country as a whole waited anxiously today for the government's next move in the deadlock over the coal miners' strike following the strike ultimatum delivered by the railroad men yesterday and an almost equally pointed threat from the transport workers.

The representatives of the national union of railway men were in session and it was understood they expected a reply from the Premier to the communication they sent him yesterday giving him to understand the railway men would quit work Sunday midnight unless by Saturday the strike was settled or negotiations which would effect a settlement had been begun.

Meanwhile the government and some of the miners' leaders were exploring the ground in an effort to find some basis for an adjustment.

While activities on the part of the labor side were being developed Premier Lloyd George and the members of the cabinet were consulting informally but earnestly during the morning with a view to finding a channel for settlement.

Opinion generally expressed in government circles was that a definite opportunity for negotiations would be found before any serious developments arose from the threat of the railroad men and transport workers.

MINERS PLAN TO QUIT PITS

(By Associated Press)

London, October 22.—The miners' conference of South Wales today asked the National Miners' Federation to call a national conference to consider withdrawal of all labor from the coal mines.

The mines are being kept in order by specially assigned forces and their withdrawal would render the pits useless for a resumption of work.

DECLINE IN PRICE OF PORK IS SEEN BY MEAT DEALERS

Pork will be the next staple food article to strike the scale of price descent along with several other articles of food it was learned Friday morning from local meat dealers.

Since along in the summer when hogs were selling at $22.00 and $22.50 the price of pork has descended about 10 per cent, it is stated, and greater reductions may be made if swine continues to sell at lower prices.

Mutton, at the present time, is the cheapest meat on the market, dealers say, but there is less demand for choice lamb chops than any other variety of meat.

Butcher men did not agree on the price of beef, one intimating that after the first of the year there was a possibility that this too might decline slightly, while another declared that with beef animals as scarce as they ever were there wasn't the slightest chance for a change in price.

Wobbling.

(By Associated Press)

Baltimore, Md., October 21.—Governor Cox of Ohio in addressing a large audience at the armory here tonight vigorously lashed the league of nations speeches yesterday of Senator Harding former President Taft and Senator Johnson of California, declaring that they evinced further "wobbling" by Senator Harding upon the league issues.

"Every one is against the league is against me" Governor declared, insisting that Senator Harding in his Republican adversary stands for "scrapping" the league.

"It is this league of nations or no league of nations" was another doctrine laid down by the Democratic nominee.

Governor Cox said that Judge Taft expressed confidence that Senator Harding would cause ratification and that Senator Johnson expressed equal assurance that Mr. Harding would reject the League.

"Either Johnson or Taft is wrong" the governor declared, "and only Senator Harding can tell the American people which one is wrong."

Large crowds at both Wilmington and Baltimore cheered the Democratic campaign.

A mighty roar went up when the great crowd one of the largest of the candidate in his travels caught sight of the governor.

KAISER'S PLAN IS OUTLINED BY HIS FORMER AID

(By Associated Press)

Berlin, (By Mail)—The former German Emperor William confidently expected to emerge victoriously from the world war and then marshal his continental armies against England in what he termed "the second Punic war," says Mathias Erzberger, in his volume of war recollections just published at Stuttgart. The Emperor evidently used the term "Punic war" in the sense of a conflict for world supremacy between two great nations. Erzberger, who was formerly minister of finances, but now has temporarily retired from public political activities, set forth in detail the meeting between the then Emperor William and the Reichstag leaders, after the fall of Chancellor Bethmann Hollweg and following the adoption of the peace resolution in July 1917.

He says the Emperor became enthusiastic over the phrase "peace or compromise," which he assumed was what the Reichstag majority demanded.

"Excellent word 'compromise,'" William stated. "It means," he said, "that we take the money, raw products, cotton, oil and ores out of the pockets of our enemies and transfer them to our own."

The Parliamentary leaders, Herr Erzberger says, were astonished by this unexpected display of imperial mentality and felt that they were being made the victims of his mockery. The Emperor's further remarks were in the same channel he declares.

Widow Preferred to Meet Death At Home

"For many years I suffered from stomach trouble. All the doctors I tried helped but little. All said I would have to go to hospital and be operated on for gall stones or I would not live much longer. I told them I preferred to meet death at home. One day I picked up an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and since taking a course of it more than a year ago have not had a single pain in my stomach, have good appetite and can eat anything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

LOCAL HIGH PLAYS HILLSBORO ELEVEN

With Two of His Men on Injured List Coach Moorehead Takes Two Squads to Hillsboro

Two full squads of Washington high school football players left the high school building at noon Friday for Hillsboro where they were scheduled to meet the strong Hillsboro high eleven at 2:30 o'clock.

Two Washington men were slightly injured. Thompson, at tackle, was limping on a sprained ankle, and Hitchcock at end was suffering with a sprained back which he received in practice this week. These two men were taken along but it is doubtful if they would be able to play the whole game.

Coach Moorehead heard a report Thursday evening that the game was not to be played on the field regularly used by Hillsboro, a lot eighty yards long and full of holes, but that a new gridiron would be marked off on the Highland county fair grounds. The local players were hoping that this had been done.

Due to the fact that school continued all day Friday few rooters accompanied the squad.

TREAT POULTRY HOUSE AND FOWLS FOR LICE

Most farmers clean and disinfect the poultry house sometime during the summer and fall months. It is a good thing at this time to treat the birds for body lice. This may be done by applying a small portion of blue ointment just below the vent or dip ping the birds in a solution of sodium fluoride and water made by dissolving one-half pound of sodium fluoride powder in 5 gallons of water. If the latter treatment is used, it should be done on a warm day to prevent the birds from catching cold. The blue ointment treatment is the cheapest and easiest method of treatment and can be applied at any time of the year and under any weather condition without danger to the fowls.

WM. WEIGEL, of Seattle, who says he had no idea anything on earth could do for him what Tanlac has done. Declares he has gained 30 pounds and that his health has been completely restored.

"I had no idea that anything on earth could do for me what Tanlac has done, and I just feel like telling everybody I see about this wonderful medicine," said Wm. Weigel, 2602 Third Ave., Seattle, Wash., with the widely-known New Washington Hotel.

"When I began taking Tanlac," continued Mr. Weigel, "my condition was so rundown that I could not work. I was never hungry, and my stomach was so disordered that the little I forced myself to eat disagreed with me. My kidneys bothered me, and the pains across my back were so severe that when I tried to bend over and straighten up again it would nearly kill me. I had splitting headaches and such dizzy spells at times I would almost topple over. Then to make matters worse, I began to suffer with rheumatism in my legs. I was nervous, weak and listless, was rapidly losing weight and strength and seemed to be going down hill every day."

"I began to improve after the first few doses of Tanlac. I seemed to feel better each day as I continued the treatment. In a few weeks I was like a brand-new man. Now, I have a big appetite, eat anything I want, enjoy every mouthful and I don't suffer in the least afterwards. I sleep like a child every night and feel just fine on arising in the morning. I haven't a pain about me, my strength has been wonderfully increased and I have actually gained thirty pounds."

"If anybody doubts this statement, just tell them to see me and I will give them the names of some of my friends who will verify every word of it."

Tanlac is sold in Washington by C. S. Haver, in Lowell by Mason's Drug Store, in Jeffersonville by J. B. Davis, in Octa by I. W. Murphy and in Milledgeville, E. L. Ford Sons, Lee Ottman, Selden. — Advt.

TIRED NERVOUS MOTHERS VINOL IS WHAT YOU NEED

To Make You Well And Strong

Women in this city who are "tagged out," weak, overworked and nervous should profit by the experience of Mrs. L. W. George. She says, "I was weak, run-down and nervous, with no ambition to do anything. After everything else had failed, Vinol built me up and restored my strength."

This is another link in the great chain of evidence to prove to over-worked mothers that Vinol contains the very elements needed to build them up and make them strong.

LARGE AUDIENCE FOR FIRST NUMBER OF LECTURE COURSE

Grace Church held a large audience Thursday night, for the opening number of the "Washington Lecture Course," and "The Climax" presented by a company of four, met with popular favor.

He acting is as decidedly above the amateur that it will be a contributing force in bringing to her success if she goes on the grand opera stage, for which rumor says she is training.

Walter Dale as "Pietro" is an artistic pianist and his work was a decided factor in the play.

"The Climax" is a humorous play with an interesting plot and especially good as a vehicle to bring out the unusual dramatic and musical talent of the young star, Miss Dorothy Seegar.

Miss Seegar has a very beautiful soprano voice, brilliant yet charged with sympathy. She handles it admirably, her tones, bird-like in their sweetness and flexibility.

Paul Atherton as John Raymond, the doctor; Walter Dale, as Pietro Galfanti, the son, and Charles Fleming, as Luigi Galfanti, the father, possess particular gifts for their respective parts.

The next number of the course will be on November 18, when the Great Lakes String Quartet will appear.

GOT RELIEF FROM TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Would wake him up during the night and could not resist scratching, which caused great sores. Declares the root and herb remedy Dreco, has driven it from his system.

"I hope some person who suffers from eczema will read what I have to say and will be led to try this great medicine, Dreco," are the words of Mr. L. A. Collins, one of Marion, O., best citizens, who owns a big farm four miles from this city.

"My life has been a misery for years... on account of this terrible disease," he continued, "why it would wake me up at night itching and burning like fire. I could not resist scratching, as that seemed to relieve it, but this made big sores all over my body... I've tried ointments, creams, lotions, everything recommended to cure eczema, but without success."

"I decided to try Dreco, which was claimed to be a blood purifier and system cleanser, and Dreco is what has given me such wonderful relief. It has stopped the itching and burning; also dried up the sores and today I am absolutely free from eczema. Dreco also cleaned my liver off; stopped the dizzy spells; quieted my nerves so that I could sleep well, and has created a splendid appetite. I certainly praise Dreco at every opportunity."

Dreco is made from herbal plants which clear the impurities from the blood; rouse a lazy liver to action; strengthen weak kidneys; aids the stomach to digest the food and relieves constipation.

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Washington, C. H. by Frank Christopher. — Advt.

HAS LIVED LONGEST WITHOUT FOOD RECORD 68 DAYS

Paris (By Mail).—The long hunger strike of Mayor MacSwiney of Cork has caused much discussion here as to how long it is possible for a man to fast. Dr. Socquet has told the Paris Midi, that the record is 63 days without food set by William Granier in 1831.

"Granier had been sentenced to death and was confined in the prison of Toulouse," said Dr. Socquet. "He had a horror of the guillotine and to save himself from death by that instrument determined to starve which he did after 63 days."

"Many hunger strikers have lived longer than could have been expected," he went on. "There are the cases of Tanner, Succ and Merlati the latter of whom starved for 48 days while he lost one-quarter of his weight. Taylor tells of the case of a worker who was imprisoned in a mine for 60 days without food. He lived three days after his rescue and died as a result of being excessively fed. Many lunatics have refused to take food for 20, 30 or even 40 days."

"No rule can be established as to length of time a man can fast. His endurance will depend upon his previous health, his constitution and also upon his spiritual condition which is very important. It is well known that a starving man may increase his endurance a great deal by drinking water."

Advices received from A. G. Snow, state registrar of automobiles at the Fayette County Automobile Club offices state that automobile license tags will go on sale about December 20.

New tags will be ready for distribution about November 15, and this will enable them to be shipped by freight to various cities and save extra charges involved in rushing the tags through by express and parcel post. Orders have been placed for 500,000 passenger car licenses and 86,000 commercial car tags.

Tags will cost the state approximately fourteen cents a pair next year as compared with eleven cents this year, it is said, due to the increased cost in materials.

SCHOOL CLOSED UNTIL NEXT WEEK

The Jeffersonville schools were closed Thursday evening until first of the week on account of a case of scarlet fever developing.

It is believed that school can be resumed early in the week, possibly Monday, but precaution was deemed necessary to prevent spread of the disease and to stamp it out promptly. A small son of Orville Thomas is the sufferer. No further spread is anticipated.

"HOW WELL YOU LOOK!"

When Your Blood Is Rich and Red People Notice Your Good Health

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS HEALTH

Pale Face, Dull Eyes, Drooping Shoulders Result from Clogged Blood.

If your blood is in bad shape it shows up in your looks and feeling. When your blood is rich with red corpuscles your color is better—your lips are red, eyes wide open and bright; your good feeling shows in your actions.

Common sense will tell you that if weak, thin blood makes you look lifeless, it lowers your vitality. If your vitality is low you have little power to resist disease germs. Men, women and children with rich, red blood are able to fight off the germs which bring severe illness.

When you feel run down and weak, with no appetite and no ambition, take Pepto-Mangan for a while. It is a great blood building tonic. You should begin to feel better within a few days.

Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer, because they have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package.—Advertisement.

CRIME INCREASE IS PRONOUNCED

Budapest, (By Mail) — Professor Rasten Vambéry, a famous criminologist of the Budapest University, has told the correspondent of The Associated Press that the number of heinous crimes has been increased in the war-defeated counties of Central Europe to ten times their pre-war percentage. "The criminal, in his revolt against society, is becoming more and more desperate," he said. "The continual increase of crimes, however stupefying in itself, is far less appalling than the increasing inhumanity of the criminal."

The sentimental assassin of medieval Italy or Robin Hood, the type of rough but good hearted outlaw of the forests, was an angel compared to the cold-blooded villain of our days."

HARBAUGH SAYS EPIDEMIC HERE IS SWINE PLAGUE

J. A. Harbaugh, instructor in charge of the Smith-Hughes agricultural department in Washington high school has prepared an outline of the preventive and the treatment of a form of swine pneumonia which is noticeable among hogs in this county.

Professor Harbaugh, who along with his agriculture is an expert hog man, states that the plague which has appeared among Fayette county hogs is "Swine Plague" and that its treatment is similar to the treatment of cholera.

Professor Harbaugh says:

1. Quarantine for four weeks all hogs brought to the farm.

2. Keep away dogs and all other animals and persons coming from cholera-infested farms.

3. Pasture the hogs at some distance from main highway and away from contaminated streams.

4. Feed a laxative diet, but avoid feeding very much new corn.

5. Disinfect the troughs daily and the pens and yards each week with quick lime.

6. Have an experienced person vaccinate with serum, all hogs while healthy if the disease is in your locality.

Many people do not know hog cholera when they see it, consequently losing many hogs before taking any control measures. The following are the symptoms and if one of your hogs show these symptoms it is best to call a veterinarian at once:

1. Failure to come up for feed or refusal to eat.

2. Huddling together in nests or pens.

3. Stiffness, cough, discharge from the eyes and redness of skin.

4. Constipation followed by persistent diarrhoea.

5. Rise of body temperature (fever) above 104 degrees F.

6. Death after being sick but a few days.

In case you believe cholera to be present in your herd there are certain necessary measures to be taken by yourself before the disease can be controlled.

Criminal or Hero

Out in Chicago on Wednesday the officers arrested a mail carrier and delivered him to the federal authorities because he is alleged to have burned political matter sent through the mails and given to him for distribution. It made his pack too heavy, he said, to carry around.

Then too the excuse advanced by the Chicago carrier will not avail. Had he posed as a public benefactor, relieving the people of an unnecessary burden of worthless mail matter he would have been in much better position with the public. He might have been able on such a plea, to rally hundreds to his defense.

There is no doubt that carriers are burdened with tons of worthless mail matter each year and, really, the Chicago carrier performed a great service for his patrons when he consigned quantities of it to the furnace.

It is not with the carrier, however, to correct the evil. This worthless mass sent through the mail should never be allowed to clutter up the offices and the carriers' packs.

The carriers who sort it out and consign it to the furnace are criminals now but the officials who have courage to Burlesonize themselves and bar it out of the mails at the start are going to be heroes and public benefactors.

Hero or criminal for the same act is only a question of the position held in many instances, after all.

Bryan Still Silent

The campaign is growing spirited—decidedly so. It has reached the stage now where demands for apologies and retractions are frequent and, as usual those demands are never complied with.

Mr. Bryan is still maintaining silence and it begins to look, now, like we are passing through the only presidential campaign since 1860—a quarter of a century—without the Nebraskan as a prominent figure among the participants.

Of course there is a possibility that the "peerless leader" may break the silence which has enveloped him and again step out with the gladiators, but present indications are that he will continue silent until after election.

It is evident that some development, within the ranks of Mr. Bryan's party, to which he is strongly opposed, has occurred, else he would not remain silent during the campaign. Nothing else has heretofore proven sufficient to keep him silent. No argument and no attack of the opposition party has ever made Mr. Bryan even seriously consider adopting and maintaining a policy of silence.

Perhaps, after a quarter of a century of talking campaigns, the eloquent orator from the shores of the Platte has heard that actions speak louder than words and has concluded to test it out.

His silence is having effect too. If that is what Mr. Bryan desires his desire is being realized.

The Dead Leaves

Those who are compelled to gather up the leaves that have fallen from the trees, during the past two weeks, and that means most of us, are impressed by the vast quantities heaped and strewn on the ground. It is quite to be expected, of course, that those who are required to gather up the leaves and dispose of them would have the impression that there were never such vast quantities. They have that impression every autumn about this time.

This year, however, even the passerby on the streets of the city and on the roads of the rural districts, note that there is an unusual quantity of leaves on the ground. Coming from folks who need not worry about gathering them up, the observation that there are more leaves on the ground this fall than usual causes us all to take notice.

The fact is that October has rarely, if ever before piled up such a quantity of dead leaves. The reason for it is that August and September were not dry and hot. There was no appreciable dropping off of the leaves during those months. The rains kept the foliage vigorous and green. Then came, suddenly, the heavy frosts and the dry days of October. The leaves were all hit at once and have come down in one shower instead of gradually. Then too there was no wind to blow them away. They are remaining almost in the spot where they fell.

POETRY FOR TODAY

BLUE HAZE

Beauty is garnered in the Autumn haze,
For harvest comes the reapers of the year—
Frost, and a wind that threshes color clear
From sodden earth through chill, unquiet days.
Beauty is garnered, blue and gold and red—
All, all are gathered in the azure haze
That lingers leaving summer comforted
With the remembered scents of woodland ways.
Faint as gossamer, the net of misty blue
Covers the earth through mellowing sun and rain.
The loveliness that shall return again
From some far, freshening place beyond the dew.
The grain is shorn, I search and find
Only a scarlet leaf that's left behind,
And one late aster, challenging the cold.

THE 'SPOKESMAN' FROM FRANCE DIMS PROSPECT OF OVERTURES

Republican Nominee Supposedly Was to Sound Europe After Election

How President's Criticism Of Senator Squares With Executive's Own Course.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Washington, October 22.—The Wilson-Harding exchange over that anonymous French "spokesman" seems to have died down so far as the headlines are concerned, but in Washington there is marked speculation about future developments, especially right after election. I cannot recall whether Harding has ever said so in his speeches, but it has been underfoot by persons who have been to Marion that it was Harding's intention, if election, to send immediately, within a week after the election, several leaders of American thought of both parties to Europe to consult with European statesmen about modifications of the League.

But if President Wilson insisted on his present attitude this could not be done, and there would be four months delay before a start could be made.

There undoubtedly is a statute that makes it a crime for any American citizen to have dealing with the representative of a foreign government about an issue pending between that foreign government and our own. The statute was passed, by the way, in Washington's time, at a period when the United States was in the same kind of frenzied political excitement that we now have on the same kind of issue—an issue of foreign entanglements. Literally, the statute condemns to imprisonment every American citizen "who, without the permission or authority of the Government, directly commences or carries on any verbal or written correspondence or intercourse with any foreign government, or any officer or agent thereof, with an intent to influence the measures or conduct of any foreign government, or of any officer or agent thereof, in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States."

Many in Peril If Law Now Applies
Whether those words would fit the case of Senator Harding, assuming that Senator Harding's conversation had been with an agent of the French Government, is for lawyers to say. But if this statute does not fit the case of American citizens who have talked with members of foreign governments about the United States entering or not entering the League of Nations, then a good many of us would go to jail. I know I would be seriously inconvenienced if I should have to spend three years in jail for every time a member of a foreign government has talked to me about America entering or not entering the League of Nations.

I recall one conversation, in which the Prime Minister of a European government was urging upon me the duty of America taking on some mandates for the administration of certain backward peoples—a conversation which ended with my remarking that "it looks to me as if you were proposing to leave a nullo baby on our doorstep." The conversation was entirely innocent and honorable in intention, and there was much merit in the argument. Scores of other American journalists have had the same sort of conversations with foreign governments. Frank Simonds, for example, would certainly have to write his articles and books under severe limitations if he should have to serve a term in jail for every case when ministers of foreign governments have tried to persuade him that America ought or ought not to take certain steps in its foreign relations.

Verdict of the Controversy
So far as the public impression is concerned, I suspect that while Wilson was technically in the right Harding probably got the verdict of the bystanders. The tone of Wilson's letter tended to confirm the idea the public got from Wilson's dismissal of Lansing, that he is a little over critical a little jealous of his prerogative, and a little schoolmasterlike in punishing infractions of it.

Most of us in Washington think that Mr. Wilson has been made over-sensitive by the state his health has been in, not merely during the past year, but during most of the war. I have heard it as gossip—and this is a matter of gossip only—that during the war Gen. Leonard Wood and Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois had certain conversations with members of the French and British governments and with British and French army officers, which conversations on the part of the two Americans were critical of President Wilson, of Secretary Baker, and of our conduct of the war generally. I have been told that President Wilson secured transcripts of these conversations from abroad and that he at one time contemplated some kind of punishment of the two men.

More recently it has been understood that Mr. Wilson was irritated by some incidents of Viscount Grey's ambassadorship to America. Viscount Grey was never able to present his credentials to President Wilson, because of the latter's illness, and when he returned to England he wrote a letter to the London Times entirely sympathetic to the Republican Senators' demand for rescissions to the League of Nations.

It is within my knowledge that Viscount Grey, when he was here, had many talks with Republican senators who are members of the Foreign Affairs Committee, in the homes of some of these senators, in regard to what America should do about the League of Nations. These conversations would seem to be a perfect analogy to Senator Harding's recent case, even assuming that the Frenchman in this case was a former representative of the French government.

Insistence on Article X
On explanation of what might in fairness be called Mr. Wilson's rather excessive rigidity about Article X of the League of Nations may lie in the fact that, according to the general understanding of persons at the Peace Conference, President Wilson personally was the author of Article X, that this was the only article of which he had exclusive authorship, and that this article was inserted in the Covenant only through Mr. Wilson's rigid insistence, and against the opposition of both the British and the French.

Mr. Wilson's pride of authorship might be an adequate explanation of his sensitiveness about this particular article. Since Mr. Wilson is in the position of forcing this article not only on the American senate, but also on the British and French, his situation would naturally make him acutely sensitive about negotiations behind his back between Republican senators on the one hand and British or French statesmen on the other hand, looking to the destruction of what he might naturally regard as, in a peculiar sense, the child of his own conception.

direct to him from the League statesmen without consultation on their part with President Wilson is undoubtedly not only a fact but a fact that caused some wonder as to its significance.

As to Diplomatic Proprieties

To return to the Harding case, it is undoubtedly not only an obligation of statute, but also an obligation of propriety that no foreign government shall deal directly with the leaders of a party, or with any one else except the government. It would be intolerable for the French to have negotiations with the Republican party as a party, and if such a thing should happen, the French Ambassador would be shown the door promptly and with the approval not only of diplomatic proprieties but also of popular standards of what are right human relations.

On the other hand, President Wilson himself in his relations with foreign governments has most certainly not merely infringed but flouted the or else rule which he now cites to punish Senator Harding. During the Peace Conference President Wilson's ignoring of the Italian government and his address direct to the Italian people over the heads of the Italian Ministry and the Italian delegates to the Peace Conference was one of the most sensational episodes of the President's sojourn in Europe. Mr. Wilson did this once, and tried to do it on another occasion. In the latter instance he was prevented by the address of the frightened Italian government.

George Creel's Account

Of this incident there is a most readable account in a book published during the past few weeks by Mr. George Creel, "The War, the World and Wilson." Mr. Creel first describes how he personally, acting on behalf of Mr. Wilson, made an engagement for the President to address a gathering of Italian people. Mr. Creel then continues the narrative of his matching of wits with the Italian statesmen, who ultimately proved a little too cleverly Italian-handed for the direct and simple George.

"At 12 o'clock of the day Admiral Grayson brought word that the 'official entertainers' had entered a very vigorous protest against the plan and that the President thought it wise to cancel the engagement. I explained that this was impossible, as thousands were already gathered. . . . The invitation had been extended and accepted in good faith, and as the pledge of the President had been given, surely the Italian government would not wish to put him in a position of extreme embarrassment. The message came back that the President would keep the appointment, but that the hour would have to be 4 o'clock instead of 2:30 o'clock. Orlando and Sonnino, working quickly, had arranged for a number of interviews that were not on the program. . . . Four o'clock came and with it a message from the President to tell the waiting throngs that he was being delayed for half an hour. Citizens ran through the crowd like mad, shouting the news. . . . A great and happy cheer went up when it was learned that the President would come eventually. Time dragged on and it was not until 6 o'clock that I heard the trumpets and saw the outriders that marked the approach of the King and the President. Every one felt as a matter of course that a stop would be made, but the procession swept by at full speed. A groan went up from the gathered thousands, and with the Latin emotionalism that one find only in Italy, women cried and men threw their hats upon the ground and tore wildly at their hair."

"IT LOOKS BLACK FOR US, MARTHY, BUT WE'VE 'AD MANY A WORSE BLOW AN' WE'RE STILL 'ERE YET!"

Blocked President's Plans

"It was not until the next day that I learned the full story. Unable to change the President's plans, Orlando and Sonnino went to work deliberately to block them. Interview after interview was arranged in haste and thrust forward with peremptoriness, and when the President, out of all patience, was about to put on his coat to go out, the King himself was produced for the purpose of an official conference on matters of state. It was told to me later by a sympathetic member of the court circle that the reason for it all was Sonnino's fear, least the President, speaking extemporaneously to the people, might bring up the Fiume proposal. This would have been fatal to the plans of the politicians. . . . Undoubtedly President Wilson guessed at this. . . . The planned interruptions of the afternoon, reaching a climax in the deceit that carried him by the assembled crowd without a hint, stirred President Wilson to a deep and bitter resentment."

To attempt to talk to the Italian people direct about an exceedingly tense and delicate aspect of Italy's relations with her neighbors and to persist in that attempt against not only the disapproval, but almost the physical opposition of the Italian Ministers does not qualify Mr. Wilson to make what he called a "grave and extraordinary" matter of what Senator Harding did.

CITY OFFICIALS URGE INCREASE IN TAX RATE

Argument For Increasing
Tax Rate From 18 Mills
To 20 Mills is Made.

City Officials Claim Two
Mill Increase Necessary
To Cover Expenses.

Mayor Dahl, Solicitor Junk, Auditor Hitchcock and the Finance Committee of Council have presented the accompanying argument in favor of voting for the two mill levy at the coming election.

The statement of the officials follows:
To The Voters of Washington C. H., Ohio:—

On November 2nd there will be submitted to you the proposition of exempting from present tax limitations, a levy of two mills for interest and Sinking Fund purposes on account of bonds outstanding against the City of Washington.

The undersigned feel that a full statement of facts regarding this matter will be appreciated by you and that, understanding the situation, you will cast your votes "yes."

The amount of money required to conduct our City affairs is in round numbers $74,000.00 per annum. Of this the sum of $24,000.00 is required for Sinking Fund charges, which are the redemption of bonds and the interest on the City's bonded debt, which debt amounts to the sum of $222,150.00 and was incurred by paving streets, constructing sewers, the purchase of fire engine equipment and refunding indebtedness.

The above item of $24,000.00 must be paid each year, before any current expenses of the City may be paid, as the redemption of bonds and interest coupons are the first legal obligation of a municipality.

The current expenses of the City now amount to $50,000.00 annually and these include the salaries of City officials, the pay rolls of fire and police departments and the cost of necessary supplies therefor, the pay rolls of laborers on streets and sewer, the bills for lighting our streets and for water for our hydrants, the health department and public library. The two items of street lighting and water alone run to nearly $16,000 per year and the pay rolls of fire and police to over $10,000.00.

The total annual income that the city may expect from taxation, unless the two mill levy carries, is $26,000.00, of which as has been pointed out $24,000.00 must go to Sinking Fund, leaving $2,000.00 for current expenses. To this may be added between $5,000.00 and $6,000.00 received from Automobile registration fees, and between $1,000.00 and $1,500.00 from the railroads for street crossing lighting and from the Mayor in fines, costs and licenses, producing at the out side not over $20,000.00 with which to meet the current expense budget of $50,000.00.

The two mill levy will produce about $24,000.00 bringing the total available for current expenses to $44,000.00. The deficit of $6,000.00 can be handled by notes or bond issues each year, and the Sinking Fund will not be materially increased since this Fund will be lessened each year by the redemption of bonds.

During the last three years it has been necessary for the City to issue bonds each year in order to raise money for the purpose of paying current expenses, which procedure is merely adding to the City's financial burdens by increasing the bonded indebtedness.

In order to place the financial affairs of the City on a sound financial basis, we believe the city should refrain from further street paving operations during the next three years and that the two mill levy should be authorized.

We are of the opinion that the cost

COAL SITUATION NOT FAVORABLE

Advent of Cold Weather Would Occasion Suffering in the City, Local Dealer Asserts.

According to a local coal dealer Friday morning the coal situation still remains anything but favorable in this city. The advent of cold weather would cause suffering, he says because hardly more than fifteen or twenty percent of the people have obtained their coal supply for the winter.

Orders sent in for coal keep the supply exhausted as soon as it arrives, he declared and the fact that a normal coal shipments are not received add to the trouble.

Dealers declare that the long stretch of exceptionally fine fall weather has been of unestimated assistance to both the coal dealer and the consumer.

EX-SOLDIER HAS

A GOOD STOMACH
"If a man spends six years in the army he surely would have to have a good stomach. I have a good one now and Foley Cathartic Tablets made it that way." If any one does not believe this, let him write to Arthur L. Lyons, 454 Cincinnati St., Dayton, Ohio. That is from a letter received by Foley & Co. Blackmer & Tanquary.—Advt.

of conducting the affairs of the City cannot be materially reduced and at the same time maintain good city government.

We must have Fire and Police protection. We must maintain our streets and sewers. We must secure and retain proper health conditions and support our Library, which has a very small allowance. And to do this the City must have the necessary funds.

The added burden of two mills on the individual will be scarcely felt. The aggregate income to the City therefrom is a vital necessity.

SHOULD WATCH
KIND OF MATCHES

(By Associated Press)
Columbus, Ohio. — "What kind of matches do you use?"

This is one question Ohioans should think about, according to State Fire Marshal William J. Leonard, who said "During the week the attention of this department has been called to a certain brand of safety matches that proved to be the agent for a painfully burned hand and came near causing a series explosion in a Columbus home."

"The matches were purchased in a local cigar store and were carried home in the usual dozen box carton original package. The purchaser, upon reaching home struck one of the matches and immediately the whole box flashed up, badly burning his hand and spotting his clothes with sparks," he said.

"The carton was brought to this office and a fresh box opened. Two of the first five matches lighted threw fire at least six feet, the burning particles being large enough to leave a plain trail of smoke. The residue easily crushed from the stick causing the matches to "spit" badly," the marshal declared.

"There are a few simple rules that should be thoroughly learned about matches. Always close a box of safeties before lighting a match on the side of it. Be sure the heads are turned away from you. Use only a slight pressure and strike, from not toward you. Hold the box away from the face and clothing and be sure that you strike with and not against the wind. Before throwing the stick away, break it. If this habit is formed there will be less match fires in Ohio."

There are a few simple rules that should be thoroughly learned about matches. Always close a box of safeties before lighting a match on the side of it. Be sure the heads are turned away from you. Use only a slight pressure and strike, from not toward you. Hold the box away from the face and clothing and be sure that you strike with and not against the wind. Before throwing the stick away, break it. If this habit is formed there will be less match fires in Ohio."

THE GREATEST STOVE EVER MADE FOR BURNING OF SOFT COAL, SLACK OR ANY KIND OF FUEL

The Florence Hot Blast burns all the smoke, soot and gas in the cheapest soft coal or slack with the same regularity and cleanliness as if you were burning artificial or natural gas, without the accumulation of any soot in the stove pipe.

NO SMOKE! NO SOOT! NO DIRT! EVERYTHING CONSUMED!

No clinkers from hard or soft coal. Ashes as fine as powder. The most economical stove on earth. It is not the original cost of a stove, but what it costs to operate it that counts. The Florence is an investment and pays for itself in a very short time. The only jointless leg bottom and base, with full radiation, that is on the market, or that has ever been made. The result is: As a Fire Keeper it will be just as good 25 years from now. Remember the Florence heats the floor 5' or 6' feet on all sides of the stove. If the fire pot cracks in 5 years we will give you a new one free. Hot Blast Air Tight Florence, will burn anything combustible, hard or soft coal, coal siftings and dust, slack, wood, coke and sawdust wet or dry and rubbage.
